

2019-20 Intermountain Seasonal Awards

Congratulations to these deserving awards recipients

Steve Schowengerdt Volunteer of the Year

Rich McDowall is the recipient of this award. He is a fixture at the Jackson Hole Ski Club and is one of those unsung volunteer heroes, always willing to step up to the plate with his expertise in Timing and Calculations. A big thanks to Rich for his dedication to the JHSC and IMD.

IMD Official of the Year

Troy Price is the recipient of this award. Troy will earn his FIS TD certification in October 2020. This is the first new FIS TD in IMD in 25 years. In addition, Troy is actively involved in official's education and is always willing to step in at every level. He is most deserving of this award and IMD is very fortunate to have his knowledge and tireless support.

Alan Hayes Intermountain Scholar

Carter Louchheim is the recipient of this award. Carter has had many ski racing achievements including being a member of the Western Region Training group since 2016. While that is impressive, Carter's academic achievements are remarkable. He's has a 4.6 cumulative GPA and scored 35 on his ACT. Carter was also named a National Merit Semi-finalist and has been accepted to Williams College. He is a tremendous teammate and has been voted a team captain both his junior and senior year. Congratulations to a well deserving young man.

Steve Bounous Excellence in Skiing Award

Bella Wright and Jeremy Mathers are the recipients of this award. They have been selected by a group of IMD coaches. This award is based on world ranking. Both athletes have risen to the top of their game and are continuing their paths to athletic excellence. Congratulations to Bella and Jeremy, all of your hard work and training has paid off.
